

DANA LUZON, AUD, ACHIEVES BOARD CERTIFIED IN AUDIOLOGY® FROM THE AMERICAN BOARD OF AUDIOLOGY

RESTON, VA. (June 2, 2014) The American Board of Audiology (ABA) is pleased to announce that Dana Luzon, AuD, of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., is now Board Certified in Audiology®. This certification demonstrates Dr. Luzon's commitment to professional excellence in audiology.

The ABA identifies and formally recognizes those audiologists whose knowledge base is consistent with the highest professionally-established credentials and distinguishes them as Board Certified in Audiology. By entering into this voluntary certification program, Dr. Luzon demonstrates her commitment to achieving and maintaining high professional standards and to remaining current in the latest audiology developments and issues. The Credential Board, Certified in Audiology, assists the consumer in recognizing those individuals who have completed standardized education and training and who continue their professional development.

The credentialing program is administered by the ABA for the express purpose of certifying audiologists. Mindy K. Brudereck, AuD, Chair of the Board of Governors for the ABA, notes, "I commend this busy audiologist, Dr. Dana Luzon, for her willingness to take this extra step in demonstrating professional excellence. I congratulate her professionalism."

The ABA has been granting certification to audiologists since 1999. The Board Certified in Audiology is a voluntary certification program administered by audiologists for audiologists through the ABA. Benefits accrue to both the audiologist and the consumer through recognition of the commitment to continued education in the field of audiology.
