

Interprofessional Education Collaborative

Connecting health professions for better care

WHAT WE DO

Working in collaboration with academic institutions, IPEC promotes, encourages, and supports efforts to prepare future health professionals to enter the workforce ready for team-based practice that helps to ensure the health of individuals and populations.

IPEC currently offers:

- faculty development institutes for multi-disciplinary faculty teams and their collaborative academic or practice partners, and individual educators and practitioners
- an interprofessional leadership development program (ILDLP) for deans, senior academic leaders, and campus-wide interprofessional education (IPE) leaders
- webinars highlighting top trends in IPE and collaborative practice
- resources such as the Core Competencies for Interprofessional Collaborative Practice, IPEC Institutional Assessment Instrument, scoping review on IPE and patient care, IPEC Poster Collection, and more!

WHO WE ARE

The Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC) is comprised of 22 national education associations of schools of the health professions. IPEC member organizations are committed to collaborating in guiding interprofessional curricula development and advancing interprofessional learning experiences across health and partner professions.

WHAT'S NEXT

VIRTUAL INSTITUTE

Interprofessional Education: Building a Framework for Collaborative Practice
May 21-23, 2024

Online

The virtual program takes place over the span of 3 consecutive days for 4-5 hours each day. Participants attend synchronous sessions that will allow for live interaction with expert speakers and IPEC staff and guided exercises to develop an implementation plan for their institution.

Target Audience: Interprofessional teams and individual participants

WEBINARS

Integrating the New IPEC Core Competencies into IPE Curriculum

TBD

The core competencies developed by IPEC were first adopted in 2011 followed by updates in 2016 and 2023. This session reviews significant changes in the latest version of the IPEC competencies, discusses how to use this material to meet accreditation requirements related to interprofessional education, and reviews promising practices for incorporating the competencies into your IPE programs.

Target Audience: Health professions educators, students, and practitioners
